

Hi, I'm CRYSTAL!

We've always suspected crystals hold special powers and whether you feel it or not, this is the ultimate upgrade on the classic anal plug: smooth curvy design and a stylishly luxurious material. Great to look at, and even greater to explore with.

Why did we choose to work with stones? Because we believe their natural vibrations are a fantastic way of promoting well-being by releasing tensions and balancing the body's energy flows. This specific design is an especially precious tool to stimulate and strengthen the root chakra.

Pink quartz is a soothing crystal, a precious source of emotional support capable of healing emotions, soothing heartache and banishing negative feelings such as fear, anger or resentment.

Jade is a purifying crystal chosen for protection and balance.

Your wellbeing comes first. The crystals we choose were especially studied for internal use. Being non-porous means they are completely safe and especially suitable for anal play.

Every single toy is unique in its design and undergoes a thorough quality control process to ensure smoothness and integrity. The unique nature of each stone means there might be slight variations in shape and colour.

I. BEFORE

No charging involved and all ready to use!

However we recommend you always do a routine check before you use your toy. Being crafted from crystal means this toy is very special and a little fragile. And while every single toy goes through a thorough quality control process to ensure the integrity and smoothness of the stone, you should make sure everything is in order before you start playing with it.

If you notice any abnormality or flaw, please contact us at info@yspot.co.

II. DURING

Getting turned on?

This one doesn't come with any buttons but you might want to take a couple of things into consideration.

Such as temperature: crystal might feel colder than silicone toys so you might want to slightly warm it in your hands or allow for a few seconds for it to adapt to your body temperature upon insertion.

Speaking of insertion, the shape was especially studied for your anal cavity. However, you should only ever insert it from the narrow tip and always keep the rounded base on the outside.

Unlike silicone-based toys, you can use your crystal toy with a variety of lubricants, whether your go-to water-based formula or an oil-based alternative.

All done?

Simply pull it from the base and make sure not to drop it! (It's precious, delicate and might break.)

III. AFTER

How to care for your toy?

It only takes two simple things:
It only takes two simple things:
- water (just don't boil it and avoid submerging it completely)
- anti-bacterial soap (generic or specifically designed for toys)

Put it away till next time with the love and attention it deserves, away from extreme heat or cold, light and humidity.

DISPOSAL INFORMATION

Crystals are a unique and precious material. If for some reason you wish to dispose of yours, please do so mindfully by burying it in the ground or returning it to nature - just don't put it in the trash.
